[This post is written in my capacity as Vice-Chair of the Board of Trustees of SLMath. -T.]

SLMath, formerly MSRI, has launched the search for the next Deputy Director. This key position is a close advisor to the Director and shares in the internal management of the scientific team and programs at SLMath. This position is ideal for an experienced professional with a PhD in mathematical sciences seeking a new opportunity to leverage their strengths in program and grant management, financial management, and people management.
